Your Destination for Hunting

Game Hunting

The prairie landscape of Hanna and the surrounding area provides ample hunting opportunities for Mule deer, White-tailed deer and Antelope. Mule deer and Antelope are hunted on a limited entry draw for residents and non-residents to increase trophy opportunities.

Bird Hunting

Hanna is located in the middle of the largest migration route and staging area in Alberta. The migration routes of four different species of geese intersect in the immediate Hanna area. Thousands of Canada, White-fronted, Snow and Ross's geese fill the Hanna skies from early September to late November.

Hunting in Harvest Sky Region

Game Hunting

Annually, Mule deer are harvested in the 180 to 190+ range, White tailed deer in the 160 to 170+ range, and Antelope in the 80+ range. But of course, we know it all rides on one's ability and the all mighty "luck". Alberta's deer generally rut during the month of November, thus providing the best hunting opportunity. Unless of course you are a bow hunter where you may want to consult with your guide to determine the best time to book your hunt.

Bird Hunting

The terrain allows for the option of hunting over or on water as well as field shoots. The Hanna area is also known for its exceptional duck hunting opportunities. Nineteen different species of ducks are known to frequent the area; however, hunting pressure is concentrated on the later migrations of large northern Mallard and Pintail.

Hunting

The majority of the land surrounding Hanna is privately owned or leased thus requiring permission for access.

The region also has everything you need from sunset to sundown. Here is a sample schedule for a relaxing day under the Harvest Sky:

1 Grab a quick bite to eat at one of our favourite local bakeries or breakfast stops

2 Pick-up last-minute hunting supplies at one of the region's sports or hardware stores

3 Gone hunting... do not disturb

4 Stop for a post hunting drink or a tasty appetizer

5 Check-into one of our local hotels, cozy bed and breakfasts, cabins, or campgrounds

6 Head into the local Town of Hanna or Village of Youngstown to check out the local stores or artisanal markets

7 Satisfy your hunger and enjoy a hearty meal from one of our local restaurants

8 End your day the way you started it, under the Harvest Sky. With no large cities nearby, the night sky here is dark enough for amazing star gazing, especially in late spring and fall when daylight hours are shorter.

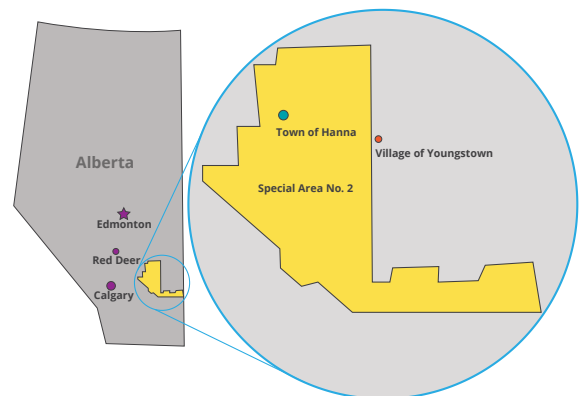

If you are looking for more to do, the Harvest Sky Region is a haven for those who love the outdoors. We're home to countless lakes, forests, trails, campgrounds, and wide-open spaces, all for you to explore. You will also find other exciting experiences such as our one-of-a-kind museums, 18-hole golf course, the charms of small-town shopping, hunting opportunities, and agricultural excursions.
